

Mentoring with Dr Rick Lewis

Fee Schedule

Which model is right for you?

If you are a seasoned leader working in a simple, straightforward context and just need an occasional conversation to stay on track, the Bi-monthly model may suit you. If you are attempting something challenging, still building your experience, in a time of organisational change or personal transition, more frequent sessions will help build momentum for progress.

Type and Duration of Mentoring Sessions

Mentoring sessions may be face to face or via telecommunication (telephone, Skype or FaceTime). They will extend for between an hour and 90 minutes, depending on how the conversations unfold and your needs at the time. We won't rush things.

Additional Sessions

If additional sessions are required beyond the model chosen, these will be considered as single intensive sessions charged at $375 per session (standard rate) or $225 per session (Christian workers discount) plus travel expenses.

Phone and Email Contact

What constitutes 'reasonable' phone and email contact is hard to define. It will depend on your circumstances but you will find Rick to be responsive and understanding. The intention is to provide a way for you to briefly touch base to address urgent matters and maintain the momentum of the mentoring relationship. Rick will be generous with his time, but such contact is not unlimited.

Travel Costs

Travel contributions will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis. Mentoring appointments in the Sydney metropolitan region will not involve any travel contribution. For mentorees outside the Sydney area, efforts will be made to arrange appointments in clusters so that travel costs can be shared between multiple mentorees.

Basis of Fees

Through Anamcara Consulting, Rick offers mentoring, training, coaching and consultancy to a wide range of leaders and organizations. The discount rate for Christian workers such as leaders in denominational and charitable organisations and pastors acknowledges the modest financial means of many such leaders and Rick's commitment to supporting them. Rick also offers some mentoring on a pro bono basis for frontline mission workers in isolated, cross-cultural contexts. Please contact Rick directly if you wish to access this offer.
